

ARABISK

DREAMS OF DAMASCUS

Syrian/Dutch cultural event

Poems, Fiction, Dance, Music, Songs and Arts.

Florence Tonk

Nouri al-Jarrah

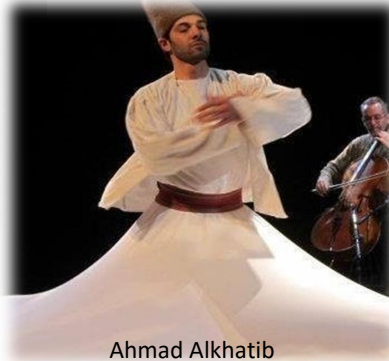

Pink Meltzer

Lezbeth Betten

Heba

Ahmad Alkhatib

Marie de Meister

Lubna Yaseen

Our surprise is: Syrian Snacks

Online sale: €5 | door price: €6

When: Op 19 March 2016, from 14:00 until 17:00 o' Clock

Where: Middelstegracht 123, 2312TV Leiden parking places are available

For reserving please contact us before 17 march on our E-mail address:

arabisk2016@gmail.com

We present some Syrian Snacks as a part of the Syrian culture
Sponsored by Stichting Boekenzolder Leiden, Syrisch/Nederlands Vriendschap forum and Stichting Syrische Vrouwen in Nederland SVNL

Why is this Syrian / Dutch event?

Because we are newcomers in the Netherlands, and because of the painful news about the death and destruction in Syria.

By this we like to present some of our beautiful Syrian faces to show pieces of Syrian culture and civilization
Nouri al Jarrah is a great Syrian poet, he supports the Syrian Spring; the Syrian dreams for freedom and democracy.
He travels all over of the world to tell people about Syria by his poems.

He travels from London to share this event with us.

In addition to Nouri there are beautiful Dutch and Syrian cultural faces:

Marie de Meister will read a piece of her novel 'De stilte van Thé'.

Pink Meltzer, Poet from Leiden will read a poem as a gift for the Syrian people.

Florence Tonk is a writer and journalist she will share with us one her poems.

Ahmad Alkhatib will show the audience sort of Sufi dancing of Syrian tradition.

Finally, Heba is an amazing Syrian girl, she sings in Arabic and Dutch.